The rainy season seems to have caught up with the repair work on the Hamilton Ave. bridge before the damage was repaired from the last rainy season. Our spies report, however, that not much actual damage has been done yet by the rain.

The San Jose Chamber of Commerce has some knock-out letter-heads with a pictorial map of Santa Clara County on the back. Campbell is designated by the Winchester Mystery House.

One of the nicest farewell presents given to the Merrills is an oil painting by Frank Cutting of the place in the Redwoods where Dr. Merrill, his son, Stephen, and the late Harry Smith used to fish. The painting was presented to them by the Congregational Church and the Church Guild.

Donita Wheeler, young daughter of the Les Wheelers, was thrilled to be the first purchaser of a bus ticket to San Jose at the new ticket agency.

No one was more surprised at the unexpected arrival of radio man, Walter Smiley, than the Campbell Press staff. The more or less abandoned radio shop was such a handy place to toss things for future reference. A hurried housecleaning will be necessary so that Mr. Smiley can get within dusting distance of his possessions.

Wedding bells will ring soon for Campbell's returned veteran, Mervyn O. Nicholls. The bride will be Margaret M. Schoner of San Jose.

The Campbell Pharmacy began to have complaints about the weighing machine in front of the store. It simply wouldn't work. Believing it out of order they called a service man from San Jose who opened the machine and found that the reason for its balkiness was lack of room. Not another penny could be squeezed in. He carried into the store 8000 pennies! And it was a job, too, for they weighed 55 pounds. The mathematical possibilities of this are endless. Since the machine was emptied three or four months ago it could have been that every Campbell resident in that time felt the urge to weigh himself two and two-thirds time, or perhaps it is only the women, suddenly intent on streamlining their figures for the returning warriors, who have weighed themselves five and a third times in the short period. Another aspect is evident when we take into account the element of gambling for the machine is the type to return your penny if you guess your own weight. Perhaps it is the gambling element in town who have been squandering all their pennies. We're going to think about this some more.

All the people who have been eagerly awaiting the chance to purchase a "Jeep" will still have a long wait for the Department of Commerce announces that Federal agencies, State and local governments, their political sub-divisions and tax-supported institutions are being given first priority.

Please NOTE

In order to give you more news of Campbell... on time... and also because of the increased size of the paper we will be unable to accept any news stories or meeting notices after 6 p. m. Tuesday.

Kiwanis Club Says "Farewell" To Doc Merrill

Kiwanis members and their guests united Tuesday in honoring Dr. W. I. Merrill, retiring Campbell physician who, with his wife, is leaving for Southern California. Carl Field was chairman for the day and D. H. Cramer gave the club a short history of "Doc" including his youth and education in Maine and the contributions he has made to the community since coming here in 1911. Mrs. Edna F. Smith gave a humorous reading in his honor entitled, "Goin' to See the Doctor," and piano solos were presented by Miss Muriel Stone, Campbell High junior, recently arrived from Eugene, Oregon.

Highlight of the luncheon was the presentation of a Longine desk clock to the doctor by the club and an autograph album in which each member had written a tribute to Dr. Merrill, who is a charter member of the club and wears a 16-year attendance pin.

An unusually large number of guests were present for the club's farewell sendoff to the Doctor; they included those on the program and George Burroughs, Dr. Paul A. Werthmann, Henry Arndt, Ed Weisendanger, Frank Ferro, Charles DeSelle, Walter Stray, G. Martin Allen Jr., Richard Kennedy of San Francisco, Walter Smiley of Seattle, Homer Hyde of Burbank, John Pugh, Cecil George and Joe McKinnon of San Jose.

At this meeting Lowell Benson, a recently returned veteran, was presented with a Kiwanis plaque bearing the inscription, "In Recognition of Services to Our Country, World War II."

Merritt Rice, termite expert, will be next week's speaker with Frank Coombs as chairman.

County Adopts Building Code

Of interest to Campbell residents is the new county building code adopted Monday by the County Board of Supervisors which will regulate all construction outside incorporated areas.

The new code which will go into effect Dec. 1 will follow provisions of the standard code now being proposed for adoption throughout California, requiring permits for all new building, new plumbing and new wiring. The gas appliance ordinance provisions are incorporated in it. All builders, plumbers and electricians will need business licenses to operate in unincorporated territory.

All buildings for purely agricultural purposes are exempted from the new code. It is hoped that the new regulations will prevent the development of "shanty towns" in the county.

Carl S. Pattovina, Luther Ave., who has been serving as a seaman 2/c aboard the light carrier, USS Langley, returned with his ship to Philadelphia in time to take part in the observance of Navy Day after the Langley had amassed a total of 11 battle stars for major engagements during 18 months of constant operations in the Pacific.

Surprising his Campbell friends, Walter Smiley, former radio man here, arrived unexpectedly in town on Tuesday for a week's visit. Smiley who is now dismantling radar equipment for the army is at present stationed in Seattle. He expects to be gone at least another year on this government work.

Fire broke out at 6:30 Wednesday morning in the kitchen of a house owned by Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Jackson, 24 Railroad Ave. Firemen quickly extinguished the blaze which did slight damage to the wall behind the gas stove.

A marriage license has been issued to Harold Shelley, Campbell, and Kathryn Hutchison, San Jose.

Victory Loan Campaign Starts

With the slogan, "They finished their job—let's finish ours," the Campbell Victory Loan campaign started Monday, headed by Guy Farley, with a quota of $115,600, with $55,400 of this in "E" bonds. Assisting Farley as section heads who will appoint solicitors are Dan Clark, Ethan Lanphear, Joe Agostinho, Calvin Bohnett, Ray Bishop, Ben Davison, Frank Coombs, Budd Levenberg, Bill Weeks, Ralph Hyde and Jack Muddock.

The Orchard City Grange has taken three outside territories with Mervyn Keesling, Stanley Smith and David Rutherford in charge.

Runnng until Dec. 8, the drive will feature a new Series E Bond with a purchase price of $150 honoring the memory of Franklin D. Roosevelt. Bonds of this denomination were not available during previous drives.

Bonds may be purchased at Farley's real estate office, corner of Central and Campbell Aves., or a telephone call there, Campbell 3546, will bring a solicitor to anyone who might be overlooked. Ira H. Grim, postmaster, says that any bonds purchased at the post office during the drive will be included in Campbell's quota.

A special bond show at the Campbell theater is planned for later in the drive with a ticket given to each bond purchaser.

The 11 billion dollars to be raised in this campaign throughout the nation will be used to meet the tremendous cost of caring for wounded heroes of the war, for rehabilitating hundreds of thousands and for bringing our fighting men back from the battlefronts around the world.

Death Calls Miss Jessie Lewis

Death last week called Miss Jessie L. Lewis, a beloved and long-time Campbell resident. Born on June 16, 1858, Miss Lewis came to Campbell in the early part of her life and during the many years here won the devotion of her friends for her untiring care of the ill and her interest in the welfare of the community.

She was a member of the Congregational Church and an ardent worker in the Church Guild, a member of the Community Chest committee and also served for many years as treasurer of the Country Woman's Club.

Funeral services for Miss Lewis were conducted by the Rev. Robert L. Carlson of the Congregational Church. Interment followed at the Los Gatos cemetery. Serving as pallbearers were: Walter Stray, Ralph Marsh, Oliver Jensen, Klaude Block, all of Campbell, and Harry Mitchell of San Jose. Preceding the service, the Rev. L. J. Osborne sang "Abide With Me."

Miss Lewis leaves two nieces and two nephews: Mrs. Dorothy Grinnell of Lansing, Michigan; Mrs. Alma Lewis Gottfried of Carmel; Lewis Stanley Cady of Mt. Clements, Michigan and Fred W. Lewis of Royal Oaks, Michigan.

Vern Balcon arrived last week to take over his duties as new manager of the Campbell theater. Balcon replaces Porter Kimball who left to take a position at the Santa Clara County Creamery in Santa Clara.

One of the first things the new manager plans is the painting of the theater and he reports that he intends to keep all performances orderly and quiet.

Balcon, who was formerly manager of the Sunnyside theater, is married and lives in San Jose.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Harvey, formerly of Saratoga, have purchased the Carlyn Ave. home of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Shulte who are moving to Fresno.

City Mail Delivery Possible In Campbell

Ira H. Grim, postmaster, who pleased the Chamber of Commerce last week with his announcement that application for city mail delivery has been made to Washington, reports that postal regulations require certain conditions which must be met before the government agency could grant the request.

All houses must be numbered in accordance with the plan set up by the local post office, all streets must have street signs and there must be an adequate number of street lights. Each house must have a mail receptacle or door slot.

The street signs and street lights are under the jurisdiction of the County Board of Supervisors but the house numbering would be up to the homeowner who would purchase and put up the number assigned to him by the post office.

Another requisite for the delivery service is continuous sidewalks; this matter, too, would be up to the homeowner. Those sections of the town without continuous sidewalks could be added to the delivery service as soon as the walks were installed.

Since these requirements will entail a certain amount of cooperation, Mr. Grim asks that all those interested in having city delivery in Campbell contact him at the post office to express their opinion.

New Physician Arrives

Arriving today to take up residence and practice in Campbell are Dr. and Mrs. Paul D. Werthmann who have purchased the home and practice of Dr. and Mrs. W. I. Merrill on Campbell Ave. Dr. Werthmann who has been serving as a lieutenant-commander in the Navy was recently discharged to inactive duty status on the point system at Moffett Field, where he has been stationed since his return to the States two months ago.

Dr. Werthmann, a graduate of Loyola University of Chicago in 1931, practiced medicine in Gustine, Calif., before entering the service. A member of the Naval Reserve since 1935, he was called to active duty in December, 1940, and has since served at the USN Hospital in San Diego, Mare Island, the Navy Air Station in Alameda and Navy Air Stations in Hilo and Aiea, Hawaiian Islands.

Sixteen months of his 26 months in the Pacific area was spent in orthopedic service at the Aiea Naval Hospital caring for casualties from Guam, Saipan, Iwo Jima and Okinawa.

The Werthmanns have two small sons, Stephen, 3½, and Andy, 6, who is already attending the Campbell Grammar school.

The new physician expects to be ready for active practice by November 5.

Campbell Groups Give Wheelchairs

Campbell organizations responded generously to the plea for funds to purchase wheelchairs for veterans suffering double amputations or paralysis, taking up the good work started by Mrs. Seth Streck of Mountain View. In her capacity as worker with the Red Cross, she was chagrined to find that our government fails to supply wheelchairs to these veterans, about to be discharged and sent home with nothing more than a pair of crutches and two artificial limbs. They have no means of satisfactorily getting themselves about.

Mrs. Streck decided to "do something", with the result that, since February, she has solicited funds to purchase nearly one hundred chairs. These are distributed at the various stations through the cooperation of the commanding officer and chaplains. Each boy is given his own personal chair at the time of release.

First the American Legion was informed of the campaign, and immediately subscribed $68, the price of one chair. The ladies of the auxiliary did likewise, and then added another $25—just for good luck.

Dr. W. I. Merrill heard the story in the Legion hall, and at the next Kiwanis meeting he asked for funds. Kiwanians responded to the tune of $40. If any other group or individual wishes to have his name on the roll of honor, this can be done by sending any amount, large or small, to Mrs. Beth Streck, Mountain View. She will purchase the chairs, and then personally make the gift in the name of the person or persons making it possible.

War Chest Drive Extended

With the California War Chest campaign extended until Nov. 15, Campbell was, on Tuesday evening, only $1238.32 short of its $6750 goal. At last week's end Campbell was third in the list of Santa Clara County communities with Los Gatos and Saratoga slightly ahead in the advance to their goals.

Herbert M. Shadle, chairman, is confident that Campbell will raise the balance of its quota before the conclusion of the drive. He has called a meeting of the Community Council on Tuesday, Nov. 6 at 8 p. m. at his home, 96 Alice Ave., and workers will review the coverage of the town.

Ralph T. Fisher, president of the State drive, says, "None of the workers are making the appeal. The men in our Armed Forces are making the appeal. Our needy allies are making it. The children, the aged, the sick, the growing youth, of all our towns and cities—these are the ones who are making the appeal to us."

"The allocations established for military services, local agencies and allied relief, each community must meet. This is a personal obligation which we must fulfill."

Campbell Legion Honors New Veterans

Wednesday night was American Legion Night in Campbell, when the local post put on an evening devoted to the new crop of returned servicemen. The ladies of the auxiliary served dinner at 6:30.

Wilbur Mitchell, commander, was surrounded by prominent legionnaires from nearby posts, and officials in legion and auxiliary circles. Mrs. Ray Wood, head of the local auxiliary was seated at the head of the table, as were Sid Brannaman, 13th District Commander, of Palo Alto; Jay Harris, Past District Commander of Santa Cruz; Col. Walter Gaspar, until recently head of the U. S. Marine Corps unit at Moffett Field, and now retired; Col. Ed Melvin, just out of the Army and at present head of the Los Gatos Legion Post; many recently-discharged servicemen from the community, and their wives.

Following the repast the assembly reconvened in the upper hall and Merlin Bohnett took over to lead a group of War II veterans in giving the initiatory degree to 15 candidates. This part of the evening was also open to the public, and many of the visitors availed themselves a chance to witness the inner workings of the legion.

Mr. Bohnett acted as commander, assisted by Comrade Langford as first vice-commander; Comrade Al Carter as second vice-commander; Harry Evans and Gus Robillard as sergeant at arms; and O. B. Averitt, a visitor from Memory Post in San Jose and second vice-commander of the 13th district, acting as chaplain. In the past commander's station was Paul Snyder.

Ushered into the hall and given the prescribed degree work were the following veterans of the recent war: W. L. Dorsett, A. D. Silva, J. A. Carvel, Eugene Gates, Glen DeBois, Paul Webrunt, Jos. Carvello Jr., Billy Holt, Henry Frank, Roy Prestigiacamo, V. G. Hehar, J. S. Peer, Ernest Pierce, John D. Clemens and Wm. H. Morgan.

Thus, with recently discharged veterans in the chairs of the officers, and neophytes fresh out of uniform, the evening was dedicated to the returned and returning veteran. Many still in uniform were present to witness the solemn rites transforming an ex-serviceman into a legionaire. All of the acting officials are members of the Campbell Post, with the exception of the "borrowed" chaplain.

Following the brief lecture on Americanism, District Past Commander Jay Harris was presented, and called upon our Past Commander Rex Fuller to step forward and receive two awards which were earned under his regime. First was presented the Gold Seal Award from the State headquarters for meeting the post's membership quota on time. He also presented the National American Legion Special Membership Award for having the previous year's membership signed up one hundred percent by Armistice Day. Then the Belgrana perpetual membership bronze plaque was presented, earned for having attained the highest percentage increase in membership. The post exceeded their quota by 300 percent.

Comrade Fuller received the awards with a thankful response and paid tribute to his lieutenants, Mitchell and Bill Weeks, for their efforts in making this possible. Meantime he left Mr. Harris holding the burdensome metal plaque, which was later placed at the front and admired by those present.

Mrs. Ray Wod, president of the Campbell Legion Auxiliary was presented and in response she invited eligible ladies to join their ranks.

"Sid" Brannaman, of Palo Alto, was presented as District Commander and responded briefly on

The garbage and refuse dumping on both sides of the Los Gatos Creek north of the Campbell Ave. bridge is on the increase. It is not a particularly pleasant sight to greet anyone entering the town and certainly should be discontinued.

Those who advocate fining the offenders must first discover a method of catching them. It would require about 18-hour police duty to arrest all of the guilty parties, for much of the dumping is done after dark.

A public dump seems a more satisfactory solution for the problem and the two or three acres washed out behind the Campisi property, back of the retaining wall, have been suggested as a possible site. This would accomplish two purposes—furnish an adequate dumping ground and eventually fill up an ugly hole.

Mr. D. H. Cramer, an instructor at the high school, a former principal of the school and a devoted civic worker in Campbell, writes this week an editorial about one of Campbell's best-loved men, Dr. W. I. Merrill.

Next week the guest editorial writer will be John D. Blaine.

Guest Editorial

By D. H. CRAMER

A community is known and judged by the character of the individuals living in it. The town of Campbell, consequently, has enjoyed a favorable reputation among her sister communities because of the residence here of many persons who, by their outstanding personalities, have made it a desirable place in which to live.

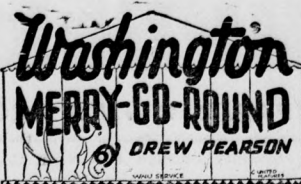

Benjamin Campbell, the founder of the town, was a man of strong character, and with his good wife, "Grandma" Campbell, exerted an influence in the town and its people.

J. Fred Smith established Campbell Union High School at the turn of the century, and for a dozen years served as its principal. Many young people, who came under his influence and guidance, have made important places for themselves in the county, state and nation.

Dr. C. N. Cooper served the people of Campbell and the surrounding country in the early days of the town. Much of this time was in the horse and buggy era, when a trip of eight or ten miles into the country was not the easy jaunt that it is today. However, Dr. Cooper was always willing and ready to go whenever his services as a physician were needed.

In the fall of 1911 Dr. Walter I. Merrill took over Dr. Cooper's practice. He moved to Campbell with his family, and they soon became an integral part of the community. They came here from Maine where both Dr. and Mrs. Merrill were reared. For the past thirty-three years both have taken an active part in the social and civic affairs of this community. Mrs. Merrill has been an active member of the Campbell Country Woman's Club and of the Parent-Teacher Association. Dr. Merrill is an accomplished musician, and he has given freely of his talent through all these years. During World War I he was a member of a twelve-member men's glee club which furnished music at the various bond rallies which were held throughout the county. He served his community as a member of various boards, among them the Campbell Grammar School Board of Trustees, the Campbell Fire District, and as president of the Campbell Sanitary District. To him more than to any one person Campbell is indebted for its present sanitary district. As a physician he recognized the fact that without an adequate sanitary system, the health of the community is not safe. He, accordingly, spent a great deal of time in working for the establishment of such a system until it finally became an established fact.

Dr. and Mrs. Merrill have decided to take a much needed rest. He is giving up his practice in Campbell, and they plan to go to Southern California to be near their daughter and son and the grandchildren. Campbell will miss them, but wishes them a pleasant and happy time in their new place of residence.

LABOR CRISIS TESTS TRUMAN

The fast-growing labor crisis presents Harry S. Truman with the first big problem he has faced on a hitherto well-charted Roosevelt sea. Up until now, most policies, especially those dealing with war and peace, had been pretty well established by Truman's predecessor. In settling the current labor turmoil, however, Harry is completely on his own.

For some time, labor advice from White House insiders has differed. Truman's labor department has argued that labor troubles after wars were inevitable, that both Wilson and Harding had to call out U. S. troops after the last war, that labor has been in a strait jacket since Pearl Harbor, is bound to feel its wild oats now; finally that big business was equally in a strait jacket and equally willing to row with labor especially if it could get labor in wrong with the public. Advice to Truman: Don't stick your neck out let both sides battle it out for a while.

Opposite advice came from another wing of the White House. . . while admitting that all the above is true, other advisers urged that both labor and industry needed guidance. For four years both labor and industry have had the Little Steel Formula as their guide. They were supposed not to go above this. . . Now labor finds itself losing its overtime wages, with take-home pay dropping way below lush war days, yet with the cost of living still high. Therefore, Truman was urged to step forward and set a national policy, suggest a wage increase which would partly offset the drop in take-home pay. . . It is this group of advisers which Truman finally has decided to follow.

FARMERS VS. LABOR UNIONS

Last week Florida citrus growers came to Washington, worried sick over the future market for grapefruit and oranges. They feared a return of the old days when their fruit was dumped into Florida rivers. . . The army has just cancelled orders for several million cases of orange juice. Simultaneously it has turned back on the civilian market several million more surplus cases. This backlog is bound to have a depressing effect on citrus fruits. . . Citrus fruit growers know that with wages dropping, the civilian demand for oranges and grapefruit will also nose-dive. When workmen get paid less, first thing they quit buying is fruit. . . Cattlemen also figure on a drop in prices. Not only will the army buy less, but workmen eat less meat, when wages are cut. . . Same is true of many other farm commodities, including dairy products. . . Never before has the average American eaten so well—despite rationing—as during the war years largely because wages were high. . . Seldom before also have farmers been so prosperous. . . Seldom before, however, have farmers been so sore at labor unions. They were looking forward to buying new autos, new farm machinery. Now all this is delayed by strikes. Also they were looking forward to the return of cheap labor from cities to farms. So far this hasn't materialized.

UNIONS LOSE MONEY

Big industrial unions naturally don't want any trek back to the farm. It means loss of dues. The United Auto Workers' 1,000,000 dues-paying membership has now dropped to about half of that. The drop was so severe that the cost of running the union went in the red. . . UAW chiefs are going about their wage protests in an orderly, fair-minded manner, have done their best to stop the Kelsey-Hayes wildcat strike. . . But some union leaders prefer strikes. It helps increase their power in the union. . . In Schenectady, General Electric's Charles E. Wilson long has advocated higher wages. He says it helps him sell electric refrigerators, electric irons, etc. He has been ready to make upward wage adjustments voluntarily, just as wise Standard Oil of N. J., increased its pay immediately and automatically at the end of the war.

However, certain CIO Electrical Workers seem more interested in a strike than a voluntary or negotiated wage boost. . . some labor leaders, unfortunately, seem deliberately looking for strikes—among them John L. Lewis. They bring disfavor on the heads of other labor leaders, have given the entire labor movement a bad setback with public opinion. . . Public opinion in some areas is now so anti-labor that Truman would get thunderous applause if he called out U. S. troops as strike-breakers.

The Campbell Camp Fire Girls' Council will meet tonight at 7:30 in the Camp Fire room at Scout Hall. The Council, with Miss Helen Stray as chairman, includes Mesdames William Abildgaard, Ray Fish, Rex Fuller, W. F. Grant, Milton Robertson, William Henley, Lawrence Osborne and Anthony Jurras.

Leaders for the group this year are: Mesdames Paul Becker, Don Sevens, Frank Richardson, G. K. Schrader, Victor Fossum, Boyd Rappe, Hans Hansen and the Misses Eileen Cowdery, Lovela Zimmer and Marilyn Lobrovitch.

On Oct. 12 the Ocowasin Camp Fire group held election. The officers elected were: president, Bernice Robertson; vice-president, Jean Richardson; secretary, Selma Knowles; treasurer, and scribe, Mardel Sanders.

On Oct. 19 the group went to the Rosicrucian Temple.

The girls are making a year book for plans for the year and are also making bed-side waste bags and towels for the Visiting Nurses Association.

Recently returned to Campbell and civilian life is Roy Stoner who before his discharge from the Navy served as Chief Motor Machinist Mate aboard the USS Cascade, a repair ship. Stoner entered the Navy three years ago and spent 22 months of that time in the South Pacific. He is now at home, 54 N. Union Ave., with his wife and two daughters, Grace Louise, 6, and Kay Georgia, 10, and is once again operating his business, the Bear State Engineering Company.

Mrs. Warren Eddlemon, 33 S. Third St., was a recent hostess for the American Antiques Club following the club's monthly meeting which was held at the Old Adobe in Los Gatos. She was assisted by Mrs. Paul Larkin.

Receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Prichard, 290 N. Harrison St. The baby who was born at O'Connor Sanitarium on Oct. 10 has been named Diane Sue. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Prichard of Retail, Washington. The baby's parents are planning on returning to the Northwest next month to make their home.

Sanford Hedegard, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Hedegard, has returned to Campbell with a honorable discharge from the Navy after 14 months in the Pacific theater as an Aviation Ordnance Man 2/c. He and his wife, the former Lorene Horner, will leave soon for Davis where the former navy man will attend agricultural school.

Merchants wishing to display window cards depicting the servicemen's honorable discharge bronze lapel buttons in full color, may obtain them from the San Jose Chamber of Commerce without charge.

This modest little difficult-to-recognize button is often the only outward symbol of a man's wartime service and sacrifice.

The first supply of these display cards was distributed in the downtown area of San Jose and the great demand has resulted in a reprinting.

Mr. and Mrs. Les Wheeler, First St., had as their guests last week for two days Mrs. Wheeler's cousin and wife, Major and Mrs. Dearnold McLean of Los Angeles. Major McLean, a member of the U. S. Army Engineering Corps, has recently returned from two years of service in the Panama Canal Zone and in the European theater where his group preceded the advance of General Patton.

Don Cossack Chorus and Dancers—Serge Jacoff, conductor.

Don Cossacks To Appear Nov. 5

The Original Don Cossack Chorus, led by Serge Jacoff, sings for the San Jose Concert Series next Monday night, Nov. 5, appearing the day before at the Opera House in San Francisco. The 30 Russians, ranked as the "most brilliant chorus in the world", still have their bearded basso whose bottom notes surpass those of a contrabassoon in clarity. Their exciting program ranges from liturgical chants and folk songs, songs of the Soviet and Cossack battle songs, to wild Cossack dancing.

"Suds In Your Eye" Monday, Nov. 18

While the Denny-Watrous Management has had to regretfully announce that "The Only Girl", scheduled for Monday night, has been cancelled it is happy to say that the hilarious success, "Suds in Your Eye", adapted for the stage from the Mary Laswell book of the same name, will play a matinee and evening performance on Sunday, Nov. 18. "Suds" comes directly from the Curran Theater, San Francisco, where it has broken every box office record in that theater's history in its seat sale. "Only Girl" tickets may be turned in for refund, or exchanged for "Suds in Your Eye", the Cossacks, or any Denny-Watrous attraction.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ford have purchased the home of Mrs. C. A. Sutter on Campbell Ave. and are building a smaller house on the property which Mrs. Sutter will occupy.

Santa Clara County leaders of women's groups will participate in an all-day session and discussion of post-war problems in the Civic Auditorium and Hotel Sainte Claire at San Jose, Thursday, Nov. 1.

Arranged by the San Jose Chamber of Commerce and the National Association of Manufacturers, the meeting will center upon "Women's Hopes for Tomorrow's America", and will feature three nationally known speakers, presenting different points of view.

Dr. Ray E. Untermyer, professor of economics at the California Institute of Technology, will discuss the national economy and a program for permanent prosperity from the viewpoint of management; Ralph Chaplin, labor author and editor, will give labor's views; and Roderic Olzendam, West Coast representative for Reader's Digest, will be the spokesman for the public.

Mrs. Ruth Comfort Mitchell, Los Gatos, and Mrs. Gertrude Murphy and Mrs. Sam T. Brown, both of San Jose, also will speak; Mrs. Mitchell making the keynote address for the morning session; Mrs. Murphy presenting the consumers' viewpoint, and Mrs. Brown summing up the conclusions of the afternoon's panel discussion.

John D. Crummey, board chairman of the Food Machinery Corporation, will preside at the noon luncheon in Hotel Sainte Claire.

More than 200 women leaders of the county are expected to participate.

James Gannon, Chief Bot'sn. Mate, USN, son of Mrs. J. Subdon, returned to Campbell Wednesday after two and one-half years service in the Pacific theater. Before entering the service Gannon was employed at the Drew Canning Company. He is now at home with his wife, the former Barbara Tataro, awaiting his release from the Navy.

Kappa Karnival At San Jose State

One of the outstanding events of this quarter at San Jose State College is the annual Kappa Karnival, a benefit affair for the Health Cottage, which is scheduled Friday, Nov. 2, from 8 to 12 p. m. at the Men's Gym on Washington Square. This event is sponsored by Kappa Kappa Sigma Sorority of the college.

Each year the karnival is given to assist in keeping up the funds of the McFadden Health Cottage, which is a rest home for the students who are not ill enough to go to a hospital. Any student-body-card-holder is entitled to the free health service of the cottage.

The McFadden Health Cottage is located at 432 S. Eighth St., and is the former home of the distinguished poet, author, literary critic and lecturer, Edwin Markham, a graduate of San Jose Normal College many years ago. He became well known by his famous poem, "The Man With the Hoe". The Health Cottage has been open to students since 1925 when it was purchased from the Edwin Markham Landmark Association.

The theme of the Kappa Karnival is "Coney Island" and heading the list to make up an exciting and hilarious evening is a bathing beauty contest among sororities, a beer garden, photo booth, leg toss, milk-bottle throw, fortune telling, dart throws, and a first class program featuring Miss Nadine Jansen who plays the trumpet and piano at the same time.

The general chairman of this event is Pat Renz, assisted by the following group chairmen: Shirley Everett, food; Betty-Jean Jurras, advertising; Jane Barrett, decorating; Claire Canevari and Judge Haddock, entertainment; Pat Dunlavy, tickets; Pat Griffin and Ernestine DeFord, concessions; and Jessie Steinegal, costumes. The chairmen wish to announce that this karnival is not only a student affair. Adults and parents are urged to come. They will be insuring their children and community against sickness.

Five members from Campbell are: Mary Lou Blair, Carol Lantz, Barbara Jensen, Betty Jean Jurras and Ruth Cousins.

Dr. Aurelia Henry Rheinhardt, president emeritus of Mills College and for many years president of the International Association of University Women who participated actively in the World Peace Conference in San Francisco last spring, will be the guest speaker at the "Peace Festival" which marks the fifth anniversary of San Jose Garden Forum at Sainte Claire Hotel next Saturday.

Patrons of the Garden Forum are eagerly looking forward to this event which culminates an innumerable number of outstanding programs presented by Bertha M. Rice since the beginning of World War II.

Luncheon will be served in the stately Cafe Esplendido at 12:30 p. m. Following the pledge to the flag the invocation will be offered by Bishop L. C. Sanford.

Dr. Rheinhardt's subject will be "Peace, the Gardener". As a grand finale members of the San Jose Light Opera Association will contribute a number from the opera "Sapphire Seas", with Miss Cecile Salerno as soloist, assisted by 15 or 20 members of the chorus.

Reservations have been closed for several days. Two hundred and thirty-eight guests will tax the seating capacity of the large room.

An unusually appropriate floral decor of white flowers, olive branches and symbolic figurines will be featured.

A hostess will preside at each table which will seat six guests. Honor tables will include not only those participating in the program but a group from the Trinity Auxiliary at which Mrs. P. Hamilton Boomer will preside. A number of distinguished guests will be at the table over which Mrs. John Drew Sr. will preside, and many out-of-town guests are expected, including officials of the California branch of the National Woman's Party and the junior branch of this organization.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Farnham flew south last week to attend the wedding of their son, Daryl, and Miss Marian Rosengren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Rosengren of San Bernardino. The simple ceremony attended by a few close friends and relatives was performed at San Bernardino, Thursday evening, Oct. 25. The bride was attended by her sister, Betty, and the bridegroom had as his best man, Don Robertson of Campbell, who had been stationed at San Bernardino Army Air Depot only four days before the rites.

The bridegroom who served for three and one-half years as a lieutenant in the Army Air Corps was recently placed on the inactive status list at McClellan Field. His bride has been connected for more than two years with the personnel department at San Bernardino Army Air Depot.

After a wedding trip spent at Lake Arrowhead, the newly married pair will leave for Corvallis, Oregon, and both will start the winter term at Oregon State College where Mr. Farnham had three years of forestry before enlisting in the Army Air Corps.

Dean Atkinson, former sergeant in the 7th Corps of the First Army, who served in the European theater for two years, has recently received his discharge and is now attending the University of California.

After five years as a civilian worker at Mare Island, Donald Bright and his wife are now living on the San Jose-Los Gatos road and operating the Cobblestone Grocery and Filling Station. Before going to Mare Island Bright had a blacksmith and welding shop in Los Gatos.

Jack Smith, Seaman 2/c, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Smith, S. Winchester road, was a weekend visitor at the home of his parents while his ship, the famous flag ship of the Third Fleet, the USS South Dakota, was anchored at San Francisco for the Navy Day celebration. At present the ship has gone to San Pedro to await sailing orders.

Lifting of price controls on natural condition unpacked dried prunes and raisins announced yesterday by the OPA reflects practically no change in current methods, according to Theodore Kluge, assistant general manager of the California Prune & Apricot Growers Association.

"There has been no ceiling this season at the grower level," said Kluge, "and we understood as far back as July that there would be none. We had been operating on that basis all along."

Accordingly, the OPA announcement was "purely technical," Kluge added.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Oh let the wickedness of the wicked come to an end; but establish the just." This verse from the seventh Psalm is the Golden Text for the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon for November 4 on the subject "Everlasting Punishment." Included in the sermon are these citations:

Galatians 6:8: "For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting."

"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The divine method of paying sin's wages involves unwinding one's snarls, and learning from experience how to divide between sense and soul" (p. 240).

Mrs. Louis Fournane and her small daughter, Mary Lou, returned home from a month's visit in Pasadena accompanied by Mrs. Fournane's aunt, Mrs. Ray Gearing, who will remain in Campbell for a visit at the home of her niece.

Campbell Man Writes of Typhoons

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Brown have received the following letter concerning the recent South Pacific typhoons from their son, Henry, who is a merchant marine and was stationed on Okinawa. Henry attended school in Campbell and was employed at the Drew Canning Company at the time he entered the service.

Typhoon Junction,
Oct. 11, 1945.

"Dear Folks:
"Sorry I haven't been writing for the last week or so. You remember I told you about the typhoons we had—well, we have had three since then. We just returned from our last one and really had a bad time of it. There was about a 110 mile wind.

"We were coming back last night when we saw two men in the water; they had been in for two days for their ship was sunk the first day of the typhoon. You could see ships picking guys up all over. Lots of ships were sunk and when we came back today you could see them all up and down the coast half sunk.

"We had a little trouble ourselves. All of our deck load was turned over and our booms broken. Since our ship is so big we are in no danger of sinking unless we run ashore. All our mail that was ashore was destroyed so we won't get any for a long time. All the boats that unload us were sunk so I will not be home this year.

"Boy, would I like to see a show! I haven't seen one for a month. I also would like to touch some land for I haven't been on any for two months.

"You don't know anything about storms until you have been in a typhoon. When you are in one, you don't sleep—you just sit up and try to stay dry. When you go on lookout you can't even stand up and you have to look into a 100-mile wind. On the wheel you work your head off. You would think we would get seasick, but many of us did not. (I must be an old salt).

"Love,
HANK."

Mrs. Nora McCord, W. Campbell Ave., has as her guests for an indefinite visit her two sisters, Mrs. Jessie Miller of Hayes, Kansas, and Mrs. Millie Zeigler of Codell, Kansas. Mrs. McCord's daughter, Mrs. Jack Murdock, will also entertain her aunts during their visit.

Legion Story

legion aims and attainments.

Howard Smith, local rural mail carrier and prominent in his efforts to establish Campbell Post, was asked to make awards of $25 War Bonds to Charles Busack and Paul Meyer, local high school students selected early in the year to represent Campbell at Boys State in Sacramento. However, due to war conditions, this meet was called off, and as part recompense, the expense money already voted was turned into bonds and the presentation made at this time.

Ex-Lieutenant Commander Walter Gaspar, World War I veteran, and World War II veteran, was presented. He hails from Willow Glen Post and was until two weeks ago one of the service officers at Moffett Field. He gave a talk on legiondom, and what the legion has done for the benefit of present-day veterans. During the course of his address, he pointed out that estimates run as high as two millions as the number of veterans who will receive higher education under the G. I. Bill of Rights; he told of the county service officers located in San Jose, and of their duties and efforts in establishing returning servicemen to peacetime pursuits.

On the lighter side, the speaker stressed the necessary delay in sending records, answering correspondence and giving data to discharges. There are more than 200,000 Smiths under arms; 160,000 Jones; 100,000 Browns; there are over 13,000 John Smiths. Campbell Post is one of the first posts in the state to form a degree team composed of veterans of the most recent war. With the addition to these ranks by the evening's initiation, and from others desirous of joining, this post will receive wide recognition as being foremost in turning over official duties to the newest members.

The Campbell Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star will meet Friday, Nov. 2, for a 6:30 p. m. pot luck supper. There will be an election of officers and all members are urged to attend.

El Paradiso Council will meet at the home of Mrs. E. L. Herriman, 564 S. Murphy Ave., Sunnyvale, Friday, Nov. 9, from 10:30 a. m. to 2:00 p. m. All members of the units of this council of P. T. A. are invited to attend this regular meeting and pot luck luncheon. Bring your table service.

Being welcomed home with a Navy discharge after 28 months in the service is Henry Glenn Coad, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Coad, 68 S. Second St. Coad was a metallsmith 1/c aboard the USS Mississippi which participated in nine major battles in the South Pacific and was part of "Bill" Halsey's powerful third fleet which entered Tokyo Bay Aug. 27. Before this the "Mighty Miss" saw action in the Aleutians, Gilberts, Marshalls, Marshall Archipelago, Palau, Ryukyu and the Philippines. Coad received the Asiatic-Pacific ribbon with seven battle stars and the Philippine Liberation ribbon with two stars.

The ex-navy man, who plans on a quiet vacation for the present, has two sons, Donald Glenn, 10, and Bruce Raymond, 6. His brother, Walter W. Coad, who was a member of the Fifth Army was killed in the Italian campaign in July, 1944.

New arrivals in Campbell are Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Morgan III, formerly of San Carlos, who are now at home at 190 Central Ave.

Mr. Morgan is connected with Taylor-Holbrook, Inc., in San Jose, and both Morgans are riding enthusiasts.

San Jose Students To Give Plays

"Ladies in Retirement" by Percy and Dunham has been selected as the first production of the post-war season of plays at San Jose State College in San Jose. The play became famous on Broadway several years ago when Flora Robson played the leading role. Later Ida Lupino played the leading character of the murderess in the motion picture version.

The production, under the direction of Mr. James H. Butler of the college faculty, is making the most of the unusually strong mysterious and humorous elements in the play. An excellent cast of college veterans has been gathered for the presentation. Playing leading roles are: Harold Upson, John Calderwood, Conrad Smith, Stella Pinoris, Elda Beth Payne, Esther Hessler, Virginia Beattie and Shirley Hart.

Unusual technical devices are arranged for the production and are under the direction of Mr. J. Wendell Johnson and Mr. Alvin Johnson of the speech department. Large technical crews of students are working to make the presentation eye satisfying as well as ear pleasing. Costumes and properties of the period of 1885 have been assured for the members of the cast.

Tickets for the production may be reserved for any of the three nights, November 8, 9, 10, by calling Ballard 7800 in San Jose, or by writing to the college in care of the speech department. All seats for all performances are reserved.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Knappen have purchased a home in Redwood Estates and are moving there within a few days.

Apple pie may be the king of pies
But listen to our customers' cries
Give us lemon—that's our pet
It's our favorite—you can bet.

The demand for our lemon pies has been phenomenal. But it's no wonder. The crust just melts in your mouth with tenderness and the filling is none but the best.
